THE STORY OF BIG BOB GIBSON

In 1925, Bob Gibson served barbecue from a makeshift oak plank table nailed to a sycamore tree in his backyard. Out of his hand dug pit, the aroma of hickory smoked pork drifted lazily over farms and fields drawing people from miles away. Long lines and wide smiles made it clear to this L&N railroad worker and giant of a man, his future was in barbecue.

The popularity of this backyard buffet convinced Big Bob to open his first restaurant specializing in authentic slow cooked barbecue. Word spread of his hand pulled pork and smoked chicken slathered in a White Barbecue Sauce. Three things insured his success; his original barbecue flavors, a charismatic personality, and that tangy White Sauce.

Over 90 years later Big Bob Gibson Bar-B-Q is still smokin' and using secret time-tested recipes that have won over 10 World Barbecue Championships. We welcome our family and friends to continue to share with us the true Southern Cuisine of this Barbecue Legend.
